

Another Object Lesson From Kilpatrick's Showing Again How to Reduce the High Cost of Living

Jot it Down on Memory's Leaves--2 Exceedingly Important Lessons in Money Saving on Second Floor at 10 A. M.

ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15TH

NUMBER ONE—Quite a collection of beautiful dresses for women, some all silk, handsomely trimmed, others of wool, in the new and popular weaves. These dresses are marked to retail at prices up to $35.00, and we ourselves sold similar at such prices; Saturday, 2 prices—$15.00 and $10.00—no tariff change will admit of any such reductions.

NUMBER TWO—Party or reception dresses for women and juniors; many exceedingly dainty gowns in the pretty and delicate tones suitable for evening wear or fashionable functions. Pick at $15.00 Saturday at 10 a. m. Not half the price that many of them are worth. And as if this was not enough; we have taken out from stock a lot of beautiful suits for women—the well made dependable kind—fit to bear the "Kilpatrick" label. There are cut velours and handsome Duvetines, perhaps the very latest of all weaves; $35.00 was the up to price, that is many similar suits sold at $35.00, some less than that; but not one of them anywhere near the Saturday price.

$18.85 FOR PICK.

In our young days we worked for a keen Scotchman who never allowed stocks to get old in his store. "Hoot mon," he'd say, "there's a price for bric-a-brac even." And so he would whittle and cut and mark and remark until he found a price at which people would take the goods away. Now, on Saturday, we're going to whittle the children's trimmed hats some more. Last week we allowed you pick of the hats worth up to $11.50 for a fiver—this Saturday you get the pick at $4.00 each, and you'll find some rare values if you come early.

AT THE GLOVE COUNTER

We desire to introduce and make you familiar with a new kid glove. "The West End" is the name—a glove such as West Enders in dear old Lannon wear freely and our own West Enders will take kindly to—$1.75 old price; $1.50 new price; Saturday, $1.29 pair.

Saturday, last day of the skirt making for $2.25. Sale continued all day on the serges at 98c instead of $1.50; at $1.07 instead of $1.75; at $1.18 instead of $2.00. This is the really effective tariff talk, instead of waiting till January 1, 1914. We prefer to do it now. No, we are not losing money on these lots. The manufacturer takes the loss in order to clear his decks for 1914.

Look at the wheels go round—in east window—an exhibition of interesting neckwear containing a suggestion of what to buy for holiday gifts.

And, by the way, mentioning holiday time, causes us to do a little figuring.

"ABOUT 5 WEEKS TILL CHRISTMAS."

The wise ones who would save their strength will take time by the forelock.

AT UNDERWEAR SECTION.

Someone said: "Ill ware is never cheap," and what a lot of "ill ware" or poor underwear some of you have seen this week. Ours is different, and you know it.

Here's an underwear lesson then for Saturday—and the same individual said: "Pleasing ware is half sold." Ours is that kind. Boys' interlock stitch union suits, the kind that many ask a $1.00 for, at 59c. Children's ribbed vests at 25c instead of 40c; Women's bleached fleeced union suits, good value, at $1.00, but much better value at our price, 85c.

Every Saturday people think of Goodies—someone broke into rhyme a day or two ago; not perhaps real poetry, just a jingle indicating how he felt about

"The Kind of Candies Good Enough to Eat."

Candies that's pure for Children fit.
Order by phone, or buy at the store.
Buy it and try it, you'll surely enjoy it.
Baked fresh each day, tastes ever like more—
See the acrostic, you'll have the name.

COBBS

Black Walnut Pillows; think of that; a satin jacket of crispy, chewy candy and the lining of new black walnut kernels; there's a toothsome delicacy to munch at. There'll be a crowd for these, they are so nice and fresh; 30 cents the pound Saturday. Last week we caused a furor, selling whipped cream chocolates, smooth and creamy, and such a rich coating of chocolate; another lot for Saturday, specially priced at 25c the box—and a pound box, mind ye.

Original French Caramels. We started out to say these are the finest in America, but America is some continent, and when we say that in our judgment there is nothing finer made in caramels we think you'll be interested. Our judgment is based on Mr. Cobbs' knowledge, and he's pretty safe to tie to. Priced at 60c for pound box Saturday; they should be 80c.

Lest you forget, as Rudyard would say, may we make mention of: Family caramels, 40c lb.; salted almonds at 80c lb. (Oh, yes, we know you can get almonds for less.) We don't attempt to compete with those. Ours are different. Salted pecans, large and fresh cracked, at $1.00 (fresh cracked, we repeat). Mint mallows, made to harmonize with the table decorations. What do you think of that? Artistic, ain't it? 60 cents per pound the price.

Crystalized ginger, 50c per pound; excellent after a full meal. Dipped grapes, 60c the pound. Take your pencil right away and mark down right in front of your phone, Call Cobb, Douglas 51, on Saturday, sure; leave order for Nesselrode pudding or ices for your Sunday dinner. Here again is where you profit by the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Cobb. They will take your order, and tried once, you'll repeat, for their ices and creams, their puddings and confections are different.

We have covered the counters with Christmas cards and novelties. Send out your own private greeting card this year. In Europe they are very popular and New York is going wild about it. The Raphael Tuck kind.

SORORITY GIRL FROM NEBRASKA MARRIED THURSDAY.

MRS. WEBSTER MILLS, Neé Miss Irma Staples

The wedding took place Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Hancock Park Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. McCashiff officiating.

There were no attendants, and the bride wore a tailored suit of peacock blue, with black lace and velvet hat, and a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley and white button chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Mills, mother of the groom, wore a gown of gray charmeuse satin, with corsage bouquet of pink Killarney roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills left immediately after the ceremony for a southern and western trip and will be at home at 1212 South Thirty-first street after February 1.

WITHDRAWS OFFER TO PAY FOR AUDITORIUM ELECTION

The Auditorium company has withdrawn its proposition to the city of Omaha that it would pay all expenses of the election of the Auditorium bonds. It was stated in yesterday's Bee that the Auditorium company has withdrawn the proposition to sell the Auditorium to the city for $225,000. The statement was not correct, as the Auditorium company merely announced that it would not stand the expense of a bond election.

PA ROURKE BUYS LOT ON WHICH TO BUILD A HOME

W. A. Rourke, owner of the Omaha Base Ball club, who was recently married, has just bought a lot at Twenty-sixth and Cass streets, where he intends to build a new home. The deal was made through A. P. Tuley & Son, and the consideration is not mentioned. Mr. Rourke and his bride are still on their wedding tour. It is expected that he will begin building as soon as he returns.

MUST MAKE MONEY ON WATER

Howell Declares Plant Has to Yield Profit to Retire Bonds.

WANTS TO AVOID TAXATION

In Order to Accumulate Funds Necessary to Pay Off Debentures Water Board Asks for Exemption from List.

Although R. Leecher Howell, water commissioner, thinks Omaha's municipal water plant is not a commercial enterprise, and although he maintains that its chief purpose is the furnishing of pure water to its patrons, yet he intends that it shall make profits large enough to retire a $7,000,000 bond issue in thirty years.

This was the substance of his testimony in Judge Troup's district court, at a hearing of the water board's appeal from a decision of the Board of County Commissioners in 1912, in retaining property in Omaha, Omaha, Benson, East Florence, South Omaha, Benson, East Omaha and Dundee on the tax rolls after its purchase by the Water board.

In the discussion of a constitutional question the issue arose as to the nature of the business carried on by the board.

"What is the purpose of control of the water plant by the city?" Mr. Howell was asked.

"To furnish pure water to the patrons," was the reply.

A few patrons who happened to be sitting on the seats in the rear of the room tittered and suppressed laughter again "as heard when Attorney Ben S. Baker declared the municipal water plant was "purely an institution, for the health, comfort and convenience of water consumers."

Profits Are Enormous.

Mr. Howell admitted on the stand that after the generous allowance of $3,806.93 for depreciation was deducted a profit was made last year of $174,092 and he expected the $7,000,000 bond issue would be retired in thirty years.

A constitutional provision that property owned by municipalities shall be exempt from taxation is relied upon by the Water board to defeat the attempt of Omaha suburbs to tax water works property. Omaha itself is making no attempt to tax property within its limits because the Water board is a part of the city, but Florence, especially, is interested to the extent of thousands of dollars, since a great part of the personal property of the water plant is located there.

Attorneys Learned and Olmsted, in behalf of Florence village maintained that the constitutional exemption from taxes applied only to property used for public purposes; that when a city goes into business to make a profit it should pay its share of taxes. Attorney Webster for the Water board went into the history of the acquisition of the plant.

The county board July 1, 1912, granted the request of the city that all property of the Water board be taken from the tax rolls, the total assessment being $3,384,000. On the next day it reconsidered its action and retained on the lists all property outside the limits of Omaha, more than half of the total.

Judge Troup took the case under advisement.
